What is it?

Carnival on bilingualism is an initiative addressed to all bloggers interested in bilingualism.

How does it work?

Once a month all bloggers concerned send a selected post on one topic related to bilingualism to the hosting blogger for that turn.

What does it mean for me as a reader?

The Carnival gives you the opportunity to read many different articles written from various points of view, as well as to get to know other sites dealing with bilingualism.

Where can I find the Carnival this month?
